

Meet Mr. Carlton Johnson, Coalition4Justice Guest Speaker - Monday, 8/24/2020

Mr. Carlton Johnson, JD

Mr. Johnson is a graduate of North Penn High School, Lansdale, PA and Penn State University, State College, PA. He received his Law Degree from Temple University School of Law in Philadelphia, PA. He is currently a prominent attorney and Partner at the law firm of Archer and Greiner, in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. Mr. Johnson has decades of experience litigating complex civil cases, including civil rights, labor and employment, professional negligence, criminal matters, governmental affairs, personal injury, property loss, contractual disputes, real estate and more. He represents a wide range of clients in both State and Federal courts. One area of focus in his practice is on minority and women-owned businesses.

Prior to joining the law firm, Mr. Johnson served as the Chief Deputy City Solicitor of the Civil Rights Unit for the City of Philadelphia. In this position, he managed and supervised all the civil rights cases brought against the City of Philadelphia as well as litigation matters that arose from the Republican National Convention (RNC 2000) - First Amendment Rights of Protesters.

Below are a few of the lawsuits that were handled by Mr. Johnson:

- Class Action Lawsuit Alleging Systematic Police Corruption – the 39th District Police
- The Penhurst Consent Degree – Class Action Lawsuit Alleging Mistreatment of Institutionalized Mentally Ill Persons
- Class Action Lawsuit Alleging City of Philadelphia had condoned Systemic Practice by its Police Officers of Violating the Rights of Citizens of Philadelphia in General, and particularly those of Minorities
- City of Philadelphia in Numerous Lawsuits including a Class Action “Stop and Frisk” lawsuit.

Mr. Johnson remains actively involved and engaged in confronting the continuous effects of racial inequality and social injustice in the society. He is an active member of his law firm’s Diversity Committee and works aggressively to improve diversity and inclusion practices in his law firm and the legal profession in general.